On the Mountain

Why climb a mountain? "Because it's there," George Mallory famously said, before perishing in an attempt to scale Mount Everest.

God is an event planner; every detail matters, and the location is most crucial of all. On the mountain, God demanded the sacrifice of Isaac. On the mountain, He restored Isaac to His father. On the mountain, Jesus was transfigured, revealed in all His mystifying glory as the beloved Son of God, the sacrifice which would finally balance the scale.

These things happened on a mountain because they could only happen on a mountain. The mountain is where the reckoning happens. It is where God takes, where He gives back, where He hands down.

In Lent, we encounter the mountain. We are removed from the distractions of ordinary life and placed outside the confines of our everyday habits. We find silence and mystery, pain and truth. We struggle and we become tired, and there is always a moment when we wonder if, perhaps, it would have been easier not to climb. There is always a moment when others look at us and think: "Why climb a mountain?"

I confess, I am not much of an outdoorswoman. Hiking, in my family, is any walking you do on a trail that is not paved, so I am far from qualified to comment on whether or not the view from the summit was worth George Mallory's life. But I do know a thing or two about struggling through a difficult experience. I know the strange peace that exists in the moment after it's all over and you catch your breath and realize you are a better, stronger, wiser person for the pain.

The mountain is there. Let's climb it.

STEWARDSHIP IN ACTION

A STEWARDSHIP MINUTE: WHO IS YOUR EXAMPLE?

Recently, I gave a presentation to a group of parents about the Stewardship Way of Life and the Stewardship Footprint which is a representation of living this way of life. I was reflecting on that presentation, while I am not the best presenter, I am passionate about the subject. This made me think about what people might have absorbed from the presentation, and how they might have translated my poor presentation skills to reject the message. (I know personally I have been to presentations when I have evaluated the message based on my opinion of the presenter.)

I would suggest we as humans will ALWAYS let each other down. I/We as fallen from grace will often take the lesser road rather than the higher road. Please do not let my poor skills as a presenter turn you away from God's Grace and Mercy. If in the future when you see a poor presenter but a positive message, please focus on the message. God's Love and Mercy are endless. I am a fervent believer that living the Stewardship Way of Life is the best way to get to know, love and serve the Lord. He will never let us down or disappoint. Our Lord should be our example, please keep your eyes towards him.

WEDDING RING FOUND!

A women's wedding ring set was found in the women's restroom in Dec. 2023. It has remained unclaimed.

If you believe it is yours, please identify with a description and pick it up in the parish office.

Saint Anthony, pray for us!

A THANK YOU FROM SVDP

Thank you to all the generous parishioners who donated to the Joy of Giving Tree. We were blest with over $3,000 in gift cards for those in need! When we give these gift cards to our neighbors we always explain where they come from and share the story of your incredible generosity. Thank you for partnering with us in being the hands of Christ to serve the poor.

MORALITY MATTERS

ALMSGIVING: AN IMPORTANT PILLAR OF LENT

I remember as a teenager walking the streets of Washington, D.C., for the March for Life. We were there to support a child's right to life. We were walking with Fr. Ben Shockey. It was my first encounter with him. I am pretty sure we were enjoying an ice cream cone while walking. On the sidewalk was a homeless man asking for money. I remember Fr. Ben walking over to give him money, as we stood by eating our ice cream, quite the juxtaposition.

He shared that once he had given to someone in need, after which the "man" lit up; it was an angel. The figure thanked Father for giving "to the least of these." Some details of the story are hazy, maybe he was even just sharing a story told to him, but it has forever impacted me, as I'm sure it did him, regarding the importance of standing up for ALL life.

We have grown up in a generation of people accustomed to judging others. We judge the person begging; we hear talk of cash given being used for drugs, alcohol and other things. Fear is instilled in us for what we could encounter; we hear "they are just looking for handouts." Maybe for some this is true, but for others it is not, and yet it makes it easier for us to turn a blind eye to those who are truly in need.

We know it is easier for a camel to pass through the eye of a needle than for a rich man to enter the Kingdom of God. Aren't we, Christians in the U.S., all rich in comparison to the beggar? In the New Testament, the rich man went away sad because, despite all the ways he followed Jesus, he couldn't "sell all he had and give to the poor." His wealth had become his idol; maybe for us it is control, security, fear of not having enough (time or money). Even so, we know that those who give food to the hungry and drink to the thirsty, who care for the sick and visit the imprisoned... those who do these things for the least of His family ... do for Him and will inherit the Kingdom (Mt. 28:31-40).

The assumptions, the judgements, those are not our job. We are, however, called to do the Corporal Works of Mercy. We are called to love the least of these. We are called to love. We are all part of the Body, and when one part is weak, we all suffer. What if one small act conveys the heart of the Father and causes conversion, just as one small ripple can change an entire body of water?

But what if we don't love? What if we aren't generous and cling too close to our pockets? Our fear, our insecurity, our accusations, our judgements can get in the way of our own salvation. Do we really love Him? Does He really abide in us? Whom do we put our faith and trust in? My God is a God of miracles, and He sends the Holy Spirit in power in every preaching of the Gospel, word, or deed.

Almsgiving is defined in CCC 1434 as "money or goods given to the poor as an act of penance or fraternal charity." The beauty of this, of God's power and grace, is that it changes the heart not only of the one that receives, but our heart as well. In CCC 1438, we read that Lent is a time particularly set aside for penance, spiritual exercise, and voluntary self-denial such as fasting and almsgiving. I think we often view Lent as a time of asceticism. What can we give up? Others challenge themselves to adding to their spiritual life through increased prayer, devotions, sacraments, etc. We also know of fasting and abstaining. But do we bypass the part about almsgiving? This is often thought of during Advent, but what about Lent? This time is set aside for the Church to instill a practice that will continue to bear much fruit, to become a habit of greater things.

How? Simple ways. First, I challenge you to ask how your tithe in the Diocese goes to those in need. If you haven't tithed, begin. Realize it is FAR more than just giving to support a school your children currently go to. Start somewhere. Somewhere is better than nowhere.

The Diocese also says 2% of our total tithe can go directly to others we see in need. A great start would be to donate non-perishables to our parish's Lenten Food Drive for Our Daily Bread Food Pantry. Research the current needs for St. Anthony Family Shelter, Harbor House, or A Better Choice. Keep a stash of water and blankets in your car to hand out. Did you know you can get soap strips that dissolve and suds up with water? What a gift. Make homeless kits with soap, toothbrushes, facial tissue, protein bars, and water to hand out. If you have a particular passion, ask your parish priest for a related cause you can donate to or do the research yourself. Look up different obituaries and donate to memorial funds listed. Just. Start. Somewhere.

If you get the opportunity, share with those you encounter how much God loves them and what He did for them. Be His hands and feet. Care for the least of these. Be the heart of the Father to them. It is someone's brother, cousin, child, and HIS beloved. You never know when an angel or even Jesus Himself will appear thanking you for loving Him.
